Contractors Want Priority Modified

The Associated General Contractors of America have asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to modify its Counteree Commission to modify its priority order, claiming the order is so drastic as to curb industry, thereby defeating its purpose. The petition asserts that with the responing of the union mines, demand for cars for coal will be 320,000 weekly, while the maximum of serviceable cars is 324,000, of which only 33,000 are available for capacial industry under the comfor gaueral industry under the commission's order.

The contractors say the weekly demand for open-top cars in August, September and October for coal-load-ing will be 320,000 for sand, stone and gravel, 50,000 for ore, 40,000 for iron and steel, 25,000 for miscellaneous, 20,000 for limestone and coke, 19,000 each. The supply of open-top care weekly in August. Suptember and October is estimated for coal 291,000. For sand, stone and gravel 10,645, for ore 8,516, for tron and steel 5,322, for miscellaneous 4,258, for limestone and coke 2,128 each.

Mix Mirth with Melody

TISTEN and laugh -- it's Bert Williams. The greatest of burnt-cork comedians-shuffling comically behind the footlights, rocking packed houses with his de-licious darky dialect—never told anything funnier then the two stories on A-6216, "You Can't Do Nothing 'Till Martin Gets Here,' and "How? Fried!"

But it wouldn't do to laugh all evening.

Elliott Shaw in his latest ballad selection will pull your heart-strings, and maybe make your throat get. lumpy with "Mary, Dear," a song of deep feeling that gives full play to his rich baritone. A charming companion to this is Billy Jones' tenor voice singing "I Wish I Had a Wireless to Heaven", a song full of pathos, of a baby girl who misses her mother.

"THE DEUCE OF SPADES," show ing today and tomerrow at this thou-tre, presents Charles Ray, the popular First National star, in the stellar role. There are lots of those human touches which are so associated with every photoplay in which Mr. Ray appears in "The Dance of Spades." The characters in the 'small mining town are life-like, and are sketched with fidelity from the story from the stor from the story from which the photo-play was adapted, Charles Van Loan's "The Weight of the Last Straw." And Van Loan knew his small western town characters hackwards. Elvery artist engaged in the pleture read the story more than once, and each one revelled in the drawings they presented to the screen. Inasmuch as the cast was carefully chosen, it is will nigh perfect. Even the comparatively small parts were carefully thought out and portrayed by such well-known art-lats as J. P. Lockney, William Courtwright, Bert Offord, Dick Southerland and Gus Leonard, while the bigger parts were taken by Marjoric Maurice. parts were taken by Marjorie Manrice, Lincola Plummer, Philip Dunham, Jack Richardson and Andrew Arbuckle. There is no single player in this cast who is not a splendid character actor, and every man caught the infectious spirit of Charles Ray, whose performance is delighting every one of his admirpts.

"THE FIGHTIN' FOOL," the feature picture today and tomorrow at this theatre, presents "Fearless Dick". Hatton in the stellar role. There is a definite story in "The Fightin Foot." It concerns a wandering, genial cowto concerns a wandering, genial cow-boy, who stops at a ranch and discov-ors that his services are urgentia needed by a pretty girl, Lucille Rae-burn. The cowboy, Map ad by Dick Hatlon, proves to be the salvation of Hatton, proves to be the salvation of pretty Lucillo and her Invalid father. Deep-dyed villains have conspired to get possession of the Raeburn ranch, but they did not figure on fate schriding the wandering cowboy to the aid of the Raeburns. Action is the keynote of the pleture from the enough of the of the picture from the opening of the of the picture from the opening of the first reel until the last scene. There are more fights to the reel in "The Fightin' Fool" than In any five-rester on the market, is the declaration of Hotton, "When I set out to make The Fightin' Fool.
